

Sacred Heart School Graduating Class

Bishop O'Connell presented the diplomas at the Cathedral at 10 o'clock last Monday morning, and made an inspiring address to them. The graduates, Misses Elsie Collins, Elmira Fischer, Margaret Carroll and Lucile Lewis, wore springy frocks of white lace and carried American Beauties.

Society

Most of the younger set in Richmond society have left to dance at the many beautiful balls that are given at the colleges and universities all over the State. Next season's buds make their first appearance, really, at the final German at Lexington, so brilliant with the young beauties of the cast, all so beautiful with girls from all through the South. Virginia girls grow up with the joy before them of attending the final at V. M. I. the year before their formal bow to their friends of other generations, and in their debutante year to dances through all the wonderfully happy affairs at the University of Virginia; the same things that the older ones experienced all the day of their virginity, combined with their own. These balls have a sentiment and crowning glory of a Richmond girl's "good times" that no other dances can have. Among the Richmond girls leaving this week for Virginia Military Institute are Misses Harriet Gunn and Julia Todd Ellyson, and Miss Lucille Delouze. Miss Emory Tabb Dabney has gone to the university to be a member of the Kappa Sigma house party during June.

Wedding in Roanoke

A brilliant gathering of friends and relatives filled the First Presbyterian Church last week to witness the marriage of Miss Ruth Kent Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Thomas, to Frank Bailey Steele, of Dayton. A unusual interest had long been manifested in this wedding, because of the prominence of the family connections of the bride and groom, and as it is the first large wedding in Roanoke in some months.

The church was artistically and handsomely decorated with palms, statuary, incense, lilies, roses and carnations, the whole forming a beautiful background for the brilliant forms to the right and left during the marriage ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. John Allison of Alexandria, Va., a cousin of Mrs. Thomas.

The seats for the family and out-of-town guests were marked by standards of greenery and cut flowers, and the handsome evening dress of these guests presented a brilliant spectacle. During the half hour before 5 o'clock

Dr. F. E. Cuff, at the organ, gave a lovely program, including: Grand Chorus, Invocation (from "Nuptial Mass")..... Dubois "Even Song"..... Johnston "Wedding Music"..... Johnston "Lohengrin"..... Wagner "Humoresque" (by request)..... Dvorak Wedding March from "Midsummer Night's Dream"..... Mendelssohn

The bridal party entered down the two aisles, the bridesmaids entering singly and opposite, and alternating with the groomsmen, each couple crossing and forming a lovely group before the altar. The groom entered from the front of the church with his best man, Mr. J. Newman Peery, of Washington, D. C.

The groomsmen were C. H. Elson, Blenheim; C. H. Quinn, Roanoke; H. D. Jameson, Gold; H. P. Smith, Blenheim; D. M. Peterson, Blenheim. They wore boutonnieres of pink roses and with their conventional evening suits.

The bridesmaids included Miss Alma Cummings, Christiansburg; Misses Paulette, Roanoke; Miss Ethel Thomas, Hollins College; Miss Kathleen Finley, Hollins College; Miss Gertrude Hazelwood, Roanoke. Their round length frocks were of the lovely pale green satin, with overdresses of white lace and net, the drapery caught with showers of dainty pink rosebuds, ribbon bows outlining the low neck and sleeves. They were aigrettes in their hair and sweet posies and ferns.

PIECES YESTERDAY.

Mrs. L. B. Janney and Miss Sue Herzing chaperoned the annual picnic of the Dorcas Class of First Baptist Church to William Byrd Park yesterday. Games and songs were indulged in and a most delightful day was spent.

Concerning Miss Murphy.

Miss Mary Eliza Merriman and Rev. George H. L. Mayo, of Nelson County, were married in Washington last Wednesday. The bride wore a traveling suit of dark blue. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Mayo left for their summer home in Schuyler where Mr. Mayo is in charge of a circuit in the Methodist Church.

Beth Abrahah Picnic.

The picnic of Beth Abrahah Sabbath school will take place on Wednesday, June 18, at Lakeside Park. The first car will leave the Chesapeake Bay Station, Laurel and Broad Streets, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. There will be games for the children, and dinner and late in the evening, and most charming time has been planned for all who come.

Bowen-Cox.

A pretty house wedding was celebrated last week in Faheyville, when Miss Courtney Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Cox, was married to Joseph Bowen of Pound Mill. The house was decorated with pink sweet peas, red geraniums and the creme-milk tools and a 10 o'clock tea this afternoon. Rev. Thomas and Rev. Young officiated. Miss Ruth Cox and Miss Nellie Vaughan opened the door for the bridal party. Misses Barbara Britton and Kate Cox, the maid of honor, wore lingerie dresses and carried arm bouquets of white sweet peas. Helen Matton, the little flower girl, wore a pink frock and white ribbons. Alexander St. Cloud was the groom's best man. The bride was in a long away suit of brown, with a hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs.

In Honor of Mrs. Kern.

Mrs. R. B. Fairfax entertained at bridge and luncheon at her home, "Greenway Court," Roanoke, on Thurs-
